With a personality as big as her vocal range, Melbourne Soul/R&B/Hip-Hop artist Uji Moto is excited to release her debut EP “U Ain’t Shit”, available via all major streaming services.

“U Ain’t Shit” explores the feeling of the heart being broken to the point of no return, but eventually finding a way to move on, heal and let go.

“Never question your worth because people who let you down are shit” explains Uji.

“Negative people and haters are shit. Keep thriving and ruling your own self.”

The lead single “Do You Think About Me” is a flowing R&B ballad, moving from stride to stride, exploring the ups and downs of a relationship through the various tones and ranges of Uji Moto’s voice.

Capping the record off, title track “U Ain’t Shit” is straight blistering hip-hop, showcasing the Hobart-native’s trademark energy and ferocity in the ultimate post-breakup anthem.

“U Ain’t Shit” is available for streaming on Spotify, Apple Music, and all other major platforms.
